Carroll and Oelze Sell Out
Their Store. Few Buy Homes
Federal Highway News.

Bud Carter, after living a long time in rented houses, heeded the warning "Better buy and own a home," so he has bought the Wm. Jones property in the lower part of the city.

When the bluebirds began to sing, Frank Oelze began to chatter like a yellow-hammer for he was raised on a farm and could not resist the call. So he and his partner, Lawrence Carroll, both longed to get to the country, where they could go bare-footed with an old hickory hat for a head covering. Just about this time Claycomb Bros., of Webster, came along seeking a business location and the result is, Oelze and Carroll have sold out their stock of dry goods and groceries to the Claycomb Bros. who will continue the business at the same old stand.

Contracts for the building of the Federal Highway for Breckinridge and Hancock counties, will be let the latter part of February or the first of March. The contract for the bridge in Cloverport will be let at the same time as the road contract.

Some changes have been made in the first estimate of the federal highway. Instead of a 16 foot road way with 6 ft. dirt bases on each side, the roadway will now be built 23 feet wide with a rock base from curb to curb. The estimate cost will be about thirty thousand dollars to the mile. On account of the Ohio River and railroad service, the operative officer and supplies will be operated out of Cloverport.

When Bill Jones sold his property in lower Cloverport, he thought he could find a vacant house any old day. First day out he did not find any; 2nd, day he got scared; 3rd day he got panic stricken. "A house, a house, my kingdom for a home, seven pool tables thrown in," he yelled. Just about this time Maston Basham came along. He had a house to sell, so Jones has bought the property known as the Tom Bohler property in the West End.

Harrison Gibson has bought the Jake Weatherholt property out in Eastland.

Maston Basham has purchased the Will Perkins property on the Hill. He recently sold his property in the lower part of the city.

Newer faces and younger blood, are fast filling up the city, the public school in the primary department is now crowded. It looks like more rooms will have to be provided for next year's school.

Lonnie Ray has traded his property on the Hill to J. E. Basham for a farm near Duke, Ky. Mr. Ray will move on it this year. Basham has rented his property to Harry Hambleton.—E. G.

MISS ODEWALT WEDS L. E. WHITLER, LOUISVILLE

The wedding of Miss Lucile Odewalt and Mr. Leman E. Whitler, both of Louisville, was solemnized in the parsonage of the Broadway Baptist church on Saturday evening, Jan. 22, at 8 o'clock. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Whitler left on an extended bridal trip to Florida.

Mrs. Whitler is the daughter of Mrs. N. B. Odewalt, of Louisville, and a sister of Mr. Thos. Odewalt, of this city, whom she has frequently visited.

C. E. LIGHTFOOT ILL

Postmaster C. E. Lightfoot is ill at his home in the West End suffering from a slight stroke of paralysis. Mr. Lightfoot was taken ill Monday morning shortly after he came to the post-office and was taken home in a car.

PARALYSIS FATAL TO MRS. HENSLEY

Wife of Wm. L. Hensley, of Hardinsburg; Member of Well Known Family.

Mrs. Ella Morris Hensley, wife of Mr. Wm. L. Hensley, succumbed at her home in Hardinsburg, Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Mrs. Hensley had been partially paralyzed since last July. On the Monday previous to her death she was entirely paralyzed and fell into unconsciousness from which she never rallied.

The funeral was held Friday afternoon in the M. E. church, South. Rev. Roe officiated, and the interment followed in the old cemetery at Hardinsburg.

Mrs. Hensley was 71 years old. She was born and reared in Hardinsburg, and was the daughter of Skillman Morris. Forty-eight years ago she was married to William L. Hensley and they had one child, a daughter, the late Mrs. Eva Hensley Robertson. Mrs. Hensley united with the Methodist church, South of Hardinsburg in her girlhood. She belonged to one of the well known families of Breckinridge county.

Surviving are her husband, a half-brother and half-sister, Mr. Arthur Board and Mrs. Coleman Haswell, of Louisville, and one grandchild, Miss Eleanor Robertson, of Hardinsburg.

JANUARY WEATH- ER RECORDED MILD

Said to be Mildest Since Winter of 1890; Tuesday Brings Cold Snap.

January has been recorded in some localities in the State, as being the mildest winter in thirty years. The lowest temperature recorded was twenty degrees above on Jan. 17, and there were only three nights when the thermometer reached the freezing point. The rainfall and snows for the month have been remarkably small.

During the winter of 1890, the weather was so mild that fruit trees were in blossom in some of the neighboring counties about here, according to good authority. Upon the other hand one of the coldest winters was in 1917-18 when a heavy snowfall and blizzard started in on Dec. 8, and lasted several days.

This winter, although not over yet, is conceded by many weather prophets, will continue in being a mild one. Sunday and Monday were ideal Spring days, but Tuesday brought a return of winter with a cold rain which froze on the trees.

FARMERS CONTRACT TO RAISE CUCUMBERS

Receiving Stations Will Be At Hardinsburg and McQuady.

Hardinsburg, Ky.—Messrs. Bruner and E. T. Miller, representatives of the Hyman Pickling Co., of Louisville have been in the vicinity making contracts with farmers to grow cucumbers. They were successful in getting quite a number of acres pledged. A cucumber receiving head will be established at Hardinsburg, or McQuady. This will have in it a vat, or tank, holding salt or brine, in which the cucumbers will be placed until a car load is received. Then they will be shipped in a tank car to the house in Louisville.

The place which pledges the largest acreage will have the shed, but the cucumbers will be received at both places.

Candidate for Representative in Hancock and Breckinridge

JOHN F. COOK

I hereby announce myself as a candidate, subject to the action of the Republican party in the August primary, for Representative of Breckinridge and Hancock counties. It will be remembered that four years ago Breckinridge and Hancock were made a representative district. At that time I was serving as a member from Hancock county and Hon. Roy J. Cain from Breckinridge county.

Two years ago I was intending to make the race for Representative from the district but declined to do so in order to have harmony in the Republican party, and left the field open to Hon. Cain.

With no opposition in either parties this year it is Hancock's time to have the Representative on the Republican ticket. I consider that the experience

I gained as a member of the House four years ago, will stand me well in hand if nominated and elected, to serve the people.

I invite investigation of the votes I cast on every question coming before me while a Representative in the past. I feel confident that an investigation will prove that I represented the interest of the people.

I especially solicit the support of the women voters, and as they have only recently been given equal suffrage with men, I cordially invite them to investigate my record both as a citizen and while a member of the House.

Hoping that you will give my candidacy due consideration, I beg to remain,

John F. Cook.

HIGHWAY DEPART- MENTS REDUCED

Re-districting Eliminates Two Divisions of State Highway Department.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 24.—Two divisions of the state highway department have been eliminated by re-districting as Highway Engineer Joe S. Boggs stated that the work this year will be largely concentrated on the federal aid project, enabling the department to economize by dispensing with two division engineers. The first two divisions follow:

Division No. 1, under Hugh Crozer, Henderson, embraces Ballard, Caldwell, Calloway, Carlisle, Christian, Crittenden, Fulton, Graves, Henderson, Hickman, Hopkins, Livingston, Lyon, Marshall, McCracken, Trigg, Union and Webster counties.

Division No. 2, under S. J. Boone, Owensboro, embraces Breckinridge, Daviess, Green, Grayson, Henderson, Hart, Larue, Meade, McLean, Muhlenberg and Ohio counties.

BURIED IN JOR- DAN GRAVEYARD

Remains of Mrs. Mary Beauchamp, of Mystic, Taken to Bewleyville.

Bewleyville, Jan. 24. (Special)—The remains of Mrs. J. W. Beauchamp, who died at her home in Mystic on Monday, Jan. 17, were brought to Irvington the following Wednesday and buried beside her husband, John Beauchamp, in the old Jordan burying ground.

Mrs. Beauchamp, before her marriage, was Miss Mary C. Jordan, born July 19, 1852. She was a member of the Bewleyville Methodist church. Three children survive, Mrs. W. L. Robertson, of Bowerston, O.; Mrs. J. R. Burton, and W. H. Beauchamp, of Mystic.

Those who accompanied the remains here were: Mr. and Mrs. Will Beauchamp and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. D. Burton and daughter; and James Skillman, of Mystic. Mrs. Will Robertson, Ohio.

MAY GIVE CLUE TO FINDING A. PATE

J. T. Pierce Saw Man in Iowa,
La., Answering to Description of Pate.

The Breckinridge News, Cloverport, Ky. Dear Sir: I saw your account of Allen Pate being missing in this week's paper. I saw a man in Iowa, La., about a week ago. He came walking into Iowa, going east on the S. P. railroad. He answered the description you gave of him. He wore a rather wide hat and a shade over his eyes. He carried a large leather grip on his back. I spoke to the man, he looked at me but didn't speak.

He left Iowa by way of the railroad going east. J. T. Pierce, Iowa, La.

TWO KENTUCKY GIRLS RE- CEIVED BY VICE PRESIDENT MARSHALL AT CAPITOL.

The Washington correspondent in Sunday's Courier-Journal gave the following account of two Kentucky girls at the National Capitol. Miss Crutchfield is the sister of Mrs. Elfred A. Babbage, of Cloverport.

A notable young Kentucky visitor has been Miss Sarah Hayes, of Madisonville, chairman of the Democratic Committee of Hopkins county, here as messenger for the electors of the State of Kentucky to deliver the vote to the Vice President. She was accompanied by Miss Sarah Crutchfield, Madisonville. Representative Kincheloe presented the young ladies to the Vice President. Among the pleasant things in which they participated was a tea at the Willard given in their honor by Mrs. Kincheloe and a reception at the Washington Club by Stonewall Jackson Chapter, U. D. C., at which Mrs. Kincheloe gave a recital. Miss Hayes and Miss Crutchfield visited in Chicago, before returning to Kentucky.

MRS. FRAIZE AND HER SIS- TER VISITING IN ESCONDIDO

The Daily Times Advocate, published in Escondido, Calif., contained the following item about some of Cloverport's people:

"Miss Jennie Warfield, of Louisville, Ky., and Mrs. C. W. Fraize, of Cloverport, Ky., arrived Monday afternoon for a visit with their brother, A. S. Warfield, who resides three miles out from Escondido. The sisters had not seen their brother for seventeen years.

VISITOR FROM ILLINOIS

Mr. Wayman Furrow, of Illinois, who at one time lived in Cloverport, came in last week to visit his brother, Mr. Chas. Furrow, and Mrs. Furrow. Mr. Furrow enjoyed shaking hands and renewing old acquaintances whom he had not seen in several years. He is visiting in Rockport, Ind. this week and will return here before going home.

VICTOR HAGMAN ILL WITH TYPHOID FEVER

Mr. Victor Hagman, prominent farmer of the Skillman vicinity, is ill at his home there with typhoid fever. Mr. Hagman had been ill several days with a drowsiness, which was feared to be the sleeping sickness, but Dr. Hoover, of Owensboro, who is attending him, pronounced his illness a case of typhoid fever.

COUSIN GUEST OF HONOR.

Irvington, Jan. 23. (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Elmer King entertained for their cousin, Miss Bess Snyder, of Vine Grove. Their guests were: Miss Anna Buckman, of Louisville; Miss Aliene Thompson, of Guston; Miss Evelyn King, Otho King, Lamar Frymire, and C. Marcellian.

BUYS GROCERY STORE

Eli Jackson, of Tar Fork, has purchased the grocery store of G. A. Shrewsbury, of Codyville, near Hardinsburg. Mr. Jackson's father, J. B. Jackson, of Tar Fork, will manage the store.

JUDGE KINCHELOE REIGNS SUPREME

New County Judge Dispenses Duties With Ease; Serving in His First Political Office

Judge A. R. Kincheloe, the new Judge of Breckinridge county, was busy in county court, Monday. Although he has been practicing law for twenty years, yet this is the first time he has ever held an office. And he dispenses with his official duties as wisely, as efficiently and with as much ease as if he had been Judge for ten years.

There is always a reason tho. So perhaps one of the reasons for Judge Kincheloe falling into his duties so naturally is due to inheritance. His grandfather the late Jesse W. Kincheloe was Judge of the Circuit Court in Breckinridge county for six years, and he is said by many of the older residents of the county, to have been one of the best Judges in the State.

Then too, the present Judge is the son of a farmer. His father is Mr. Marcus Kincheloe, and A. R., was born and reared on the farm. He did not go away from home to seek his fortune, but after being educated and admitted to the bar, he hung out his first shingle in Hardinsburg and it has been there these twenty years where the Judge has served and given of his best to his own people.

As the fruit of his labor, he has been appointed to the highest official position in the county. Judge Kincheloe says he makes it a point to attend to his official duties first; at the same time he has time to look after business in the Circuit Court, to practice his profession in adjoining counties and the Court of Appeals.

The appointment of Judge Kincheloe has the approval of the people generally.

On every hand he has it told to him that he was the best man that could have been named for the place.

TOBACCO VS. LIQUOR.

Tobacco smoking is more dangerous than alcohol, according to Mrs. Frances Beauchamp, of Lexington, president of the W. C. T. U., in Kentucky.

"If I had to choose between prohibition of alcohol and prohibition of tobacco, I would prohibit tobacco."

This is a most extreme position, as well as a most unreasonable one. Where one person agrees with Mrs. Beauchamp there are at least 1,000 who disagree with her. The opposition to liquor which led to prohibition was the opposition which grew out of drunkenness. It destroyed the brightest intellects, but nobody ever heard of tobacco destroying intellects. It brought families to the poor house, but nobody ever heard of tobacco bringing families to the poor house. It was responsible for more than half the homicides committed in the country, but nobody ever heard of tobacco causing homicides. Liquor has shortened the lives of tens of thousands, but tobacco has been used by millions who have lived out the allotted life of four score years. Tobacco does not affect the nerves any more than coffee nor does it affect the health any more.

The efficiency of the American Expeditionary Forces in France was recognized by the world and yet nine tenths of the boys used tobacco.

Alcohol goes to the head and a man under the influence of it is hardly responsible for what he does, but tobacco has no such effect.

We believe that people are better off without the use of tobacco but at best the only harm that it can do is to those who use it, and innocent parties do not suffer like they do from the use of alcohol.

Society, for its own protection, demanded prohibition of the sale and manufacture of alcoholic beverages, but there is no more demand for the abolishment of tobacco than there is for many other things which might be considered injurious to health.—Elizabethtown News.
